The Bulletin October 2013

Meeting

The next meeting of the Kingdom Philatelic Association will be 7:00 p.m. Thursday, October 17, 2013, at the Court Street Methodist Church.

In addition to the usual U.S. and British North American circuit books; there are two books of Italian stamps; two book of classical Europe (pre-1940). There are several revenue books with revenue and 'back of the book' stamps.

Last month Charlie Brown brought his stamp ball. I was amazed. It is hard to believe one individual could put that many stamps in a ball. I don't know how he was able to keep it so spherical. I would have had a lopsided ball if I were trying to do something like that. Charlie says he got the idea from the ball that was put together Boys Town in Nebraska. His is not as big as theirs yet, but I have no doubt it will be before he is finished.

Inverted Jenny, or not?

WASHINGTON — The Postal Service announced today that it printed 100 additional sheets of stamps of the recently issued Inverted Jenny stamp but with the plane flying right-side up. These very limited edition stamps were circulated with the recent issue of the most famous “misprinted” stamp. Customers who have recently purchased the new Inverted Jenny stamp could have a very limited edition of the famous stamp.

Unique to this stamp issuance, all sheets were individually wrapped in a sealed envelope to recreate the excitement of finding an Inverted Jenny when opening the envelope and to avoid the possibility of discovering a corrected Jenny prior to purchase.

“We are leveraging the incredible story behind the rare collectible as a creative way to generate interest in stamp collecting while highlighting the role the Post Office Department had in developing the commercial aviation industry,” said Postmaster General Patrick Donahoe. Individuals purchasing ‘corrected Jenny sheets’ will find a congratulatory note inside the wrapping asking them to call a phone number to receive a certificate of acknowledgement signed by the Postmaster General.

Stamp Shows

Did you get to the St. Louis Stamp Fest last month? If not, you missed a nice little show. There were lots of dealers there with something for everyone’s ‘want list’. I was able to pick up a couple of confederate pieces I have been looking for and some more nice fancy cancels.

There were also some exhibits at the Stamp Fest. I always enjoy looking at those to see what other collectors are doing. We had two members with exhibits there; Scott Ward and David Durbin.

Don’t forget about the Fall Stamp show in St. Charles. This one is easy to access. Although there are no exhibits, there are plenty of dealers and people to visit with.
